DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figures 1-2 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Admitted Prior Art Figures 1 and 2 in view of Brito (US 5,136,639).

Regarding claim 1, Admitted Prior Art figures 1 & 2 teach a headphone device (a) comprising: an earpad (e) worn on the exterior of the ear on the head (o) of a user; and a housing (d) provided with a speaker unit and a fitting portion (g) on which the earpad (e) is located, wherein said earpad includes a cushion (i) and a facing (j) that covers said cushion; and said earpad is attachable to and detachable from said housing (via l, h). The Applicant's Admitted Prior Art does not teach that the facing is detachable from the cushion.

In figure 10, Brito (US 5,136,639) teaches an earpad comprising a cushion (16) and covering (38). In lines 15-16 of the Abstract and in column 5, lines 52-65, Brito teaches that a variety of coverings (38) may be placed upon the cushion (16) for the purpose of facilitating easier cleaning of the covering, for the purpose of disposal and subsequent replacement with a new covering, OR for the purpose of exchange for another covering having a more distinctive or complementary appearance. It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings of The Admitted Prior Art Figures 1-2 and Brito, thereby providing a replaceable facing, for the reasons previously mentioned.

Regarding claim 2, Figures 1-2 of the Admitted Prior Art teaches a headphone wherein an external shape of the cushion of said earpad is circular.
